It has been designated as a "short trial" so it has a good chance of going that day, and I can arrange trial order so you would appear on the day it starts. I will not have a real handle on judge availability that until that week.

I have tried to get him to plead for a couple years now, and he has even been before a judge to plead within the past two months. He is a stubborn fool who wants me to reduce an unrelated firearms conviction. No deal.

Send me your fax number and I will fax you a copy of the certificate – perhaps that will help. The cert. number is [REDACTED] analyzed 10-31-2005. The evidence is in our clerk's office---it is a moldy mess.

Thanks for the heads up. Do you know if it is actually scheduled for trial, or just going into the trial pool? If it does start that day, do you think that you would get to me on the 18th, or a subsequent day?

Also, I need the drug analysis number(s) for the drug submission(s). The numbers are listed on the drug certificates as well as on the submissions as well. Thanks.
